MAJOR LEAGUE HACKING

Windows

A photograph showing a group of approximately ten people of diverse ages and ethnicities gathered around a white table in a workshop or maker space. They are focused on various projects, including a small green robot with a face, a dollhouse with a person inside, and some electronic components. The environment is filled with tools, equipment, and materials, suggesting a creative and collaborative workspace.

The background of the slide features a horizontal bar at the top with three colored segments: dark blue, light blue, and yellow. The main text "We equip you." is centered in a large, bold, black sans-serif font.

We equip you.
